POTATO STATESMEN

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan spoke with feeling in saying he was "extremely reluctant" to cut the support of potatoes to 60 per cent of parity. He realizes that the 90 per cent level is too high if the federal Treasury has had to pay out $90,000,000 in potato subsidies this year.

But he also knows that the farm organizations are powerful backers of crop subsidies in general, and that Truman's backing of corn and wheat subsidies did not hurt him in the Midwest in the recent election.

Brannan must be pleased, therefore, with the reaction from farm groups as reported so far. The master of the Washington State Grange told the Grange's national convention that the present parity price is "unrealistic." His home state ranks within the top third of the potato-producing states. And please look where he was when he made his speech. The convention was held in Maine, by far the greatest potato state in the union!

Along with the one-third cut in potato support comes a one-tenth cut in potato acreage for 1949 as compared to 1948. As a goal this may seem disproportionate. But the lowered subsidy can be expected to have much the stronger influence on growers making their plans.

The populace can take satisfaction in the courage of Secretary Brannan in reducing the parity price under the law, and the fact that he didn't need courage after all. The Grange has shown a realistic balanced appraisal of the potato situation. Qualities of statesmanship in the leaders of farm organizations, as of labor groups, are easily recognizable and always gratifying.

AN AIRPLANE RETURNS

Orville Wright, visionary though he was, probably never foresaw the aircraft carrier. He was too busy trying to lift his motorized kite from the sand dunes at Kitty Hawk, N. C. It is too bad that he could not have been present to see the arrival of his historic plane back in the United States.

It came from Britain in the yawning hangar deck of the sleek carrier "Palau." What a contrast! Alongside the crated Kitty Hawk, wings folded like grounded gulls, sat planes whose engines are thousands of times more powerful, and whose speeds are hundreds of miles per hour greater.

As the Kitty Hawk travels through the Mid-Atlantic states on its way to a place in the Smithsonian Institution, honor guards of military men escort it. This is a nation's way of paying tribute. But the highest honor accorded the little plane, and the memory of its first pilot, is the sight of thousands of planes riding the airwaves of the world.

They represent what Orville Wright envisioned, and worked so hard to make a reality.

Who Pays The Bills?

The same thing is true of other areas in Bucks county. In most cases, the factories are right there. Sometimes the factories are elsewhere—much of Doylestown's income is from Philadelphia; Morrisville depends to large degree on Trenton. A shut-down of Bethlehem Steel would hit Quakertown severely.

These matters can all be proved by figures. The dollars which are turned loose in Pennsylvania cities through the pay envelopes of industrial workers are the most numerous dollars in circulation. They pay the taxes—pay the most of government's bills.

There are some things in life which do best when let alone. A farmer sows his grain—then he waits for each seed to germinate, grow and develop. He would be a fool to think he could take a hoe and cultivate each of the plants. The more of that sort of thing he did, the less his harvest would be.

Personal initiative works that way. It has succeeded when government interference has been at a minimum (primarily, the enforcement of the Golden Rule; the prevention of abuses) and it has bogged down wherever government has hired thousands of bureaucrats to tell personal initiative what it could do and couldn't—usually, what it couldn't.

There are always those in the world who don't know when they are well off. There are also always a number of people, usually those who don't handle their own affairs too well, who think it is their mission in life to run other people's business.

Socialism got its toe-hold on this generation through those two groups. Back of socialism is greed for power; those who lack capacity to build for themselves trying to seize what others had built. The way they went about it has been by telling masses of people, who usually were doing at least moderately well with things as they were, how much better off they would be if they would give the power to the socialists.

Socialism is a by-product of the machine age. Its thesis has always been the same: if government seized the industrial plant built up by private initiative ("capitalism"), the government could speed up the profits, and give a comfortable living to everyone, whether they worked or not.

That's the promise on which Hitler rose, and Mussolini, and the Communist dictatorship in Russia, and the present Socialist Government in England.

The Socialists always promise too much—they promise more pork chops than there is pig. When Hitler found he had promised more than Germany's economy could produce, he started a war of conquest. "First came the Czechs, and then came the Poles." Hitler tried to make his small-nation neighbors pay the bills. Mussolini did the same thing with Ethiopia. The Russian Communists went into mass slavery, and when that was inadequate, turned to "cold war" on their neighbors. England's Socialists have found a simpler plan: they simply send the bills to you and me—to the American taxpayers.

Mr. Truman, seeking re-election, made a series of promises which boil down to his pledge of setting up Socialism in the U. S. A.

He has promised to saddle on industry a "social-benefit" program which, by no stretch of the imagination, American industry can carry. He has promised a guaranteed comfortable living to virtually all Americans, whether they work for it or not.

One way of stating what he promised is that he proposes to see that all workers who are willing to work are required to give up enough of their earnings to let those who can't work, or are too lazy to, live just about as comfortably as those who do.

The sixty-four dollar question of the year is, "Who does Mr. Truman expect to pay the bills, and how does he expect them to raise the money?"

If all the tangible assets of the whole nation were seized, they wouldn't be able to meet the debts and obligations which the New Deal already has created—let alone support these new social-benefit programs running far into the billions.

Just how does Mr. Truman expect to finance his schemes?

RISTOL HIGH ELEVEN SCORES A SMASHING 32 TO 13 VICTORY OVER MORRISVILLE IN GAME HERE

Bristol High's scoring machine hitting on all pistons yesterday morning as it scored a smashing 32 victory over Morrisville High in the annual Thanksgiving Day game on the local gridiron. The enabled Bristol to tie Bensalem the Lower Bucks championship, the traditional tilt between the schools attracted a crowd estimated at 4,000 and was the 21st of the Bulldogs and Warriors. For the 13th time Bristol was victorious. It was the second triumph for Coach Harry McClister, his alma mater in three seasons of coaching at the Bristol school.

The thrilling tug-of-war tilt had fans in an uproar from the start as it towards the close of the contest when it was certain that Bristol's power would net them the triumph. The Warriors scored the first time they handled the ball and in after they received the ball the second time.

The 12-0 lead appeared to be a margin but Bristol underestimated the driving power of the Morrisville backs. In the second quarter, Morrisville pushed over a score after the half-time recess again crossed the goal-line and also converted one of the extra points to tie a 13-12 lead.

Large moans could be heard from Bristol stands as hopes for a victory seemed to be fading. But Bristol received the kickoff and in the Bristolians worked as a unit and did not stop until they passed Morrisville's goal line for the third time and again went out front, 18-13. Even a 5-point lead did not make the Bristol rooters comfortable but when "Jim" Sottile back a punt from the 35-yard line to the 10, the situation took a ferent air. Bristol made this touchdown after Morrisville made a punt goal-line stand and after Sottile intercepted a pass and ran the fifth touchdown, it was all over except for the shouting.

Bristol played its best ball game the season, even surpassing the victory at Conshohocken. The Bristol line outcharged the visitors and some nice blocking. Holes made the linemen on the offense was great aid in racking up yardage set up several of the touchdowns. Sottile personally was responsible for two Bristol touchdowns, one on a run-back of a kick and the other on a pass interception. No one to explain his work on the defense. Warchol's blocking was well done from a block on two Morrisville players on Sottile's run-back led 10 yards to the run while it was his blocking on two of Daniel's that enabled more yardage to be gained. Genco and Pearson played wonderful ball while Bielecki's work the pivot spot and backing up the line made a big difference. Instead was used mostly on defense as was Gleason and both did well.

Morrisville's backfield clicked on offense in the second and third quarters. The Bulldogs had eight touchdowns the first half, six in the second period and three in the second half, all in the third quarter. Bristol made 16 first downs the game. In the second quarter, Pelver, flashy Morrisville back, was injured, leaving the brunt of attack on "Johnny" Marcucci who gained the most yardage for the Warriors.

Bill Moll and "Al" Daniel stepped off the most yards for the Warriors. Most of Moll's gains were through the line while Daniel's runs were around the wings. Occasional Daniel would slip through the line to throw the Morrisville team and it was in this manner that scored his six-pointers. Besides running both of his touchdowns in the one-yard line, Moll carried the ball 16 times and gained 179 yards, an average of better than 11 yards per try. Morrisville knew he was harder to stop than an army tank. He also tossed a jump pass which resulted in a touchdown. Daniel handled the pigskin on 10 rushing tries and netted 120 yards and 12 yards average.

The Warriors scored a quick touchdown on the visitors. Seven yards after the kickoff, Bristol had points. The boot rolled to Braam the 20 and he ran it back 5 yards. Braam and Moll hit the line and did not gain. But on an end run, Daniels checked off a first down the 39. Braam completed a pass to Sottile for the first down on Morrisville's 48. Moll broke loose tackle and got away from his old-beat tacklers for a 46-yard run. He was tackled from behind by Bob over on the 2-yard line. On two tries, Moll crossed the goal-line, the extra-point try. Moll's pass was knocked down by Marcucci. Sammy Petrizzi recovered a fumble by Marcucci on the Bristol yard line to start the drive for the second TD. After Braam and Moll failed to gain, Petrizzi tossed a pass to Frank Rich who made one-handed stab on the Morrisville 45. Two cracks at the line carried Moll to the 15-yard line. Three yards advanced the ball no further on fourth down. Moll jumped to Rich who caught the ball on the 10 and went over for the score. Moll attempted placement was wide, making the score, 12-0.

Morrisville made its first score in the second session, stepping off 82 yards for the score. After Sottile kicked to the 18, Felver and Marcucci alternated in carrying the leather for a first down on the 38. The same pair then hauled it to a first down on the 49. The third first down in succession was credited to Powell who was spilled on Bristol's 38. But Felver and Marcucci kept driving in with the result of another first down on Bristol's 22. Powell and Marcucci made a first down on Bristol's 10 and the Warriors drew a penalty which put the ball on the 1-yard line. Johnny Marcucci lugged it over for the first Morrisville touchdown, making the half-time score, 12-7, as Francis Mitchell place-kicked the conversion try.

The boys of Coach Gordon Davies forged ahead of Bristol in the third quarter. Bristol was in the midst of another spurt when Dick Roberts intercepted a pass on his 40 and ran to the Bristol 31. Marcucci made a first down on Bristol's 21 and after Powell knocked off seven more, Marcucci was stopped on the 11. A fumble by Fleischer lost 8 yards but on two plays, Marcucci made 13 yards to put the ball on the six-yard line. Fleischer then tossed a touchdown pass to "Walt" Bucknum. Morrisville had two tries at the extra point, a kick and pass and failed. Bristol was offside on one of these plays. However, the Bulldogs were now enjoying a 13-12 lead.

The Bristol lads marched 68 yards to wrest the lead from their foes. Disler's kick went to Petrizzi who carried it back 15 yards to the 32. Moll thrust his way through tackle for a first down on the 46 and Daniel went into Morrisville's territory to run out of bounds on the 37. Moll chugged his way to the 20 yard line where Fleischer caught him from behind but a penalty set the locals back to the 35. After Daniels made 4 yards, Moll made a first on the 24. The plunging Bristol junior added 15 more yards to his total for a first down on the 9. Daniel slipped right through the center of the Morrisville line for the touchdown which put the Warriors in front again, 18-13.

To make victory certain, the Warriors crossed the goal line twice in the final quarter. Before the ball changed sides, Sottile carried a Morrisville kick from the Bulldogs' 35 to the 10-yard line, stepping out of bounds. A penalty put Bristol back 15 yards but Daniel made this up with an end run of 22 yards to the 4-yard line. Petrizzi was stopped inches away from the goal. Petrizzi again tried to score but Morrisville's line held and still Bristol was inches away. On the third try, Moll bulldozed his way over for the score and Alex Monte added the extra point.

Bristol was safe with a 25-13 lead but Sottile decided to end his school career with a touchdown. While Morrisville was staging one of its forward pass drive, Jim leaped high into the air to intercept a pass thrown by Woodruff on the Morrisville 45. Sottile outdistanced the Morrisville chasers to sprint 57 yards for the touchdown. Monte added the extra point.

Between halves the bands of both schools entertained the fans and there was the usual presentation of a large basket of flowers by the Bristol cheer-leaders to the Morrisville cheer-leaders, representing the schools.

Bristol also had an amusing stunt of comedy when with the band playing "She'll Be Coming Around the Bend."

Is Child Rude to Servants?

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

SOME parents are unable to employ and keep domestic helpers because of discourtesy and tyranny of their children toward hired helpers. For like reasons some parents can't find baby sitters. For practical reasons, then, children need to be disciplined to have proper respect for hired helpers in the home.

But there's a far bigger reason: the child's own personality, moral and spiritual development. See how perilous to his character if he does not learn to be thoughtful, considerate and courteous toward the person employed to care for him or to help in his family. We parents prepare the child for proper behavior and attitudes toward hired helpers, in our absence, by cultivating desirable behavior and attitudes toward these helpers in our presence, by precept and example.

Acting Rudely

Our growing child who sees us acting rudely toward a person who is employed in our home hardly will act otherwise himself. He needs to see in us a good example. This may not suffice. He also needs restraints and guidance in relation to the helper, so he will say nothing, do nothing disrespectful of her rights and feelings. He needs, moreover, to be required to take certain responsibilities so as not to burden or annoy this helper unduly, putting his playthings away, hanging up his clothes, keeping his own room tidy, so as to cause her no needless extra work.

You want him also to treat every hired helper with proper respect and dignity, as a worthy person. In the average home there will be many times when the child over five or six should be assigned to assist the help-

COUNCIL ROCK WINS

LANGHORNE, Nov. 26—Council Rock won the "Little Three" championship of Lower Bucks County with a 21-12 victory over Southampton on the neutral Playwick field yesterday afternoon. The Newtown scores were made by George Ettenger, Titus, and "Clip" Russell, while Corrigan and Carl Lewis scored for Southampton. Corrigan's score was on a 45-yard pass from Cresse, while Lewis made a 32-yard run. The Council Rock touchdowns were made after drives of 40, 45 and 65 yards. Southampton had the lead at half-time, 12-7.

PITTSBURGH, — (INS) — Records reveal that more pedestrians are killed at dusk than at any other time of the day. The Pittsburgh Better Traffic Committee warned that fall and winter are particularly dangerous seasons for pedestrians because more than half the 24 hour period is either dark, foggy or rainy.

ONE of the most picturesque arrivals in many moons at LaGuardia Field, New York, is Jorgen Matthiessen, 5, who hails from Denmark. Apparently he heard that the Indians still roamed the American plains because he came equipped with a coonskin cap. BENSALEM KEEPS ITS RECORD CLEAN; DEFEATS REDSKINS LANGHORNE, Nov. 26—Sensational passing by "Eddie" Oliver enabled Bensalem High to remain unbeaten for the 1948 season by scoring their eighth triumph here yesterday morning in their annual Thanksgiving Day game against Langhorne High. Final score was: Bensalem, 14; Langhorne, 6.

By virtue of its win, Bensalem tied Bristol for the Lower Bucks County Conference title. Langhorne, defending champions, did not win a league tilt this season.

In handing the Redskins their fifth straight setback, the Owls had to overcome a 6-0 deficit. Langhorne was first to score, but before the first half was over, Bensalem edged out in front, 7-6, and clinched the contest with a fourth-quarter touchdown.

A large crowd was on hand as Coach "Jim" Egli's minions made the first six-pointer early in the second quarter. The Langhorne sustained drive started on the 49-yard line and with Mongillo and Biedka carrying the ball most of the time, they reached the Bensalem 19-yard line. Armand Fizzano whipped a straight pass to Bodenschatz. The latter juggled the ball but finally held on to it for the touchdown. Wunsch missed the conversion try.

The Owls made their first TD late in the same period. Following a beautiful run-back of a kick by Frank Cantwell, Oliver went into the ozone, and standing on his 12-yard line, flipped an aerial to George Ashton, who caught the ball in the corner of the end zone for the touchdown. Oliver drop-kicked the extra point.

An aerial attack gave Coach Van Horn's team its final touchdown in the last canto. Vanzant kicked to Bensalem's 21. Oliver passed to Brady on the Owls' 35 and the receiver ran to the 47. Oliver rifled an aerial to Cantwell, who was spilled on the 32. After three pass-plays were grounded, Oliver's fourth to Cantwell connected for a touchdown. Oliver again drop-kicked the extra point.

COMMUNICATION

Editor, The Courier,
Dear Sir:

With the Christmas season, along with the happiness of little children, the enthusiasm of their parents and all adults, the gaiety of lulling carols, as well as the awe-inspiring message that comes to mankind at this time of year, comes the annual sale of Christmas seals.

Because Christmas means so much in so many other ways, this campaign for necessary funds may seem insignificant—a small matter to be taken lightly. The fight against tuberculosis has been long and hard—tedious and tiring; but through sacrifice and love for their fellow beings, doctors, surgeons, nurses and research workers are slowly, very slowly, winning against the great odds of this deadly disease.

This year the national goal is $20,000,000—about one-and-a-half times as much as the 1947 goal. Where does this money go, and why such a huge amount? Well, the public may ask, but in such a fight against such a disease, even this is a mere pittance if our country is to combat tuberculosis as it should. No one is safe—like other sicknesses it is no respecter of persons—the richest or the poorest can contract "TB", and there is not one iota of difference in the treatment, care and cure of either the rich or the poor man, woman or child.

Research, for which additional funds must be had, is all-important. Intensive studies for new treatments, new findings for quicker, more permanent cures, and all the word "research" implies takes money. Educating the public by means of campaigns, literature, or whatever means may be, also takes untiring work and money because the public—and this means each individual—must be awakened to the fact that routine chest X-ray should be included in any and every physical check-up.

The advancement of doctors and surgeons in the field of tuberculosis has been great—and it has cost much. Surgical equipment, drugs, anesthesia, etc., are just part of the necessary musts. The upkeep of hospitals and sanatoria, which includes linens, food, maintenance, and good hard work; the wages of the staff doctors, surgeons, supervisors, registered and practical nurses, and any kind of help from secretary down to janitor must have a wage suitable to the cost of living. State appropriation cannot handle it all, so whether it may be to the youngster in school, the volunteer on the corner, church organizations or a donation mailed to the tuberculosis headquarters in town—won't you give as generously as you can?

This is not a paid-for appeal—it is not a paid advertisement—this is a personal plea for aid to those who are doing their utmost to help the unfortunate victims of tuberculosis.

RECIPES

USE SHALLOW FAT FOR MEAT ACCOMPANIMENTS

Foods fried in fat have long been favorites to serve with meat. A new twist is to prepare these foods in shallow fat, a mere 1½ to 2 inches deep in a frying-pan, says Robt. Staggs, well-known food authority. This represents a saving in time because it does not take as long to heat the pan of shallow fat, and with the increased frying area, more foods may be fried at a time. To fat-fry in this manner, you may use a medium or large-sized heavy frying pan. A wire basket is not necessary if you have a slotted fork to remove the food from the fat and absorbent towel to drain it.

Good accompaniments for meat are french fried onion rings—dip them in cornmeal batter for a different effect. Or you can lattice-cut your potatoes for frying. Another treat with meat is french fried cauliflower sections.

Brings Gift Cubs

FROM South Africa come these lion cubs, brought to New York by Miss June Fulton who, as her costume may suggest, is bound for Hollywood and a movie career. She is from Durban, Union of South Africa, where she won a beauty contest. The baby lions are gifts sent by the Mayor of Johannesburg to the Mayors of New York and Los Angeles. (International)

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Semerlan B. Brown, R. D. Pastor
Bethel A.M.E. Church

Give grace and peace, O God, to Thy Church. Strengthen it to serve the needs of this day. Unify its people to wage an effective and relentless battle against spiritual wickedness and daring sin. Magnify the teachings of love and truth that the will to hate and delude may have no place in the warp and woof of our living. Increase the faith of the trusting soul to defeat the wiles of the deceiver and to thwart the schemes of the tempter. Sanctify the efforts of humble believers who keep faith with Thee and Thy Church. Amen.

HULMEVILLE

Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Hopkins were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hopkins and daughter, Jean, and sons, Robert and Joseph, Jr., and Howard Hopkins, of Springfield, Delaware County.

On Tuesday, George Moser arrived here from Bucknell University, Lewisburg, he visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Moser, over the holiday season.

From Wednesday until Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Robert Corrigan and daughter, Anita, of Loretto, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leo McCarthy and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Corrigan, Jr.

Members of William Penn Fire Co. are requested to meet at the fire station at 7.30 this evening. They will leave at that hour for Bristol to pay respects to their late co-member, Leon Shemeley. All members are urged to be present at the meeting in the fire station on Monday at eight p. m., to hear Robert Maxman, a representative of a casualty insurance company. The group will also view at that time pictures of the annual parade of Bucks County Firemen's Association, held at Bristol last June.

Police Chief Warns Of Winter Driving

5. When treacherous snow or ice prevail on the streets, use steel tire chains. They reduce braking distance for cars and trucks from 40 to 70 per cent, and provide "go" traction often needed.

6. If possible, have tires with good treads. They provide better stopping ability on both dry and wet pavement, but do not depend on even new rubber treads on packed snow or ice. Tests also show that "rubber tire chains," while nice and quiet, actually skid further than bare tires on ice. So, "don't skid yourself."

"In Northern states the traffic accident death rate goes up 24 to 53 per cent higher than the summer rates during snow and ice months," Chief Jones said. "Now, with more automobiles on the road than last winter, every driver must exert extra caution, both to his own driving and to the other fellow's. If drivers will do this, and stick to the rules listed, we know that we can continue to reduce unnecessary traffic accidents and tie-ups this winter," he concluded.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELBERSON

Big day at hand... an exodus of hunters that will number in the thousands will start tomorrow from every town and community in the State towards the deer woods for the opening of the deer season on Monday next. In the Pocono section traffic is expected to approximate the level of a summer week-end.

Many from this area are planning to be on hand at their various deer camps for the opening. The season will run through December 11th. Only antlered deer may be killed this year.

Reports indicate that the herd is large and with good weather the kill should be above average. It will not reach last year's kill, however, since there will be no open season on doe this year.

Stocking... last week this column reported a stocking of local fishing waters on November 13th, but with species and quantities unknown. Here is that information: Silver Lake—800 bream and 1,000 yellow perch; Maple Beach—500 yellow perch; Canal—600 bream and 1,000 yellow perch.

Since then, on Tuesday of this week, another stocking occurred. Silver Lake received another 500 yellow perch, and the Canal received a like number.

Both kinds of fish came from the Fish Commission's hatchery in Torrensale. Although the fish were small in size, all were in excellent condition.

One less rascal... last Sunday marked the end of one of the local predators who has no friends among small game hunters, when Harry (Squigg) Oliver killed one of the largest gray foxes reported in this section in several years. The fox, which was shot in the Black Ditch section north of Edgely, weighed 13 pounds.

Squigg's pack of fox hounds had another fox started, but the local hunter said he'll get that one on a later chase.

Scores... only a small group of shooters were on hand for the open, 16-yard blue-rock shoot held over the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association traps last Sunday. High man for the afternoon was W. Bowler who turned in a score of 23 out of 25. One point behind him in second place, with a score of 22, was F. R. Davies. Other scores included: J. Lynn, 20; W. Quinn, 20; R. E. Ebersole, 19. In the doubles event two men, J. Lynn and W. Quinn, tied with scores of 20 out of 21.

On the shoreline... Les Kilcovey, well-known Bristol attorney, and ardent salt water angler, told me he has taken three strippers while surf fishing along the Jersey coast in the last several days. None of the bass were very large, however, and Les says he is going to give it another try before he calls it a season.

Last day... tomorrow will mark the end of what many hunters will long remember as the poorest small game season in the history of hunting in this state. Pheasants, rabbits and squirrels will have a respite for almost a year after 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. If the disgruntled hunters renew their licenses next year (the charge for licenses next year may be $3.50) they can at least look forward with a certain amount of optimism... the 1949 season can't possibly be worse than the season just ending.

Another last day... next Tuesday, November 30th, is the last day for bass, pickerel and walleye fishing in Pennsylvania for 1948. Although it was another sort of "up and down" season for anglers, yet there were many productive periods when nice catches were made. Perhaps, with a better flow of water in the Canal in the offing, local anglers may expect more continuous good fishing along this stretch of water. It's a cinch they can't expect the same from Silver Lake. Each year this body of water becomes more disappointing to bass fishermen.

54-YARD PASS AND SAFETY WIN FOR ST. ANN'S ELEVEN

A 54-yard pass and a safety gave St. Ann's A. A. its fifth straight triumph yesterday afternoon on the high school field as the "Saints" won over the tough Tacony A. A. gridgers, 9-6. It was the Wood Streeters' ninth win of the campaign, against two losses. "Moonie" Denny, who played brilliantly for the Purple and Gold, had just tossed Crispo for a 16-yard loss, forcing Tacony to kick. The boot went to the 46. On the first play following the punt, "Mickey" Stradling spiraled a long pass to Bob Myernich. Myernich caught the ball on the 25 and ran the remaining distance for the touchdown. Stradling followed this with a pass to "Al" Spada for the extra point.

In the third quarter, St. Ann's came up with a safety. Quick was back on his ten-yard line attempting to punt out of danger when Denny broke through and blocked the punt. The pigskin rolled beyond the goal-line, where Quick fell on it for the safety.

Tacony did not have a serious threat until the final session. It started a march after St. Ann's lost the ball on Tacony's 33. Marbello and Crispo made a first down on the 44 and Dougherty banged the line for a first on the Saints' 45. Three plays put Dougherty on the 33, but Profy intercepted a pass to give the Bristol team the ball on the 23.

However, in three downs, St. Ann's gained a little, and so Monte went back to kick. However, he fumbled, and Tacony took over on the 11. Tacony lost all hope when three linemen broke through and got Crispo for a 19-yard loss.

The lines of both teams were tough. The visitors yielded five first downs, while St. Ann's made eight first downs.

FOUR STEEPLEJACKS WORKING ON TOWER

Quartet Goes About Work On Top of Buckingham Mt. Without Fear

ALL ARE FORMER G.I.'S

Four steeplejacks who go up in the air very easily compose the quartet of steeplejacks working on the 85-foot television tower on Buckingham mountain.

In the group are:
Joe O'Connor, 24-year-old Irish youth, who served more than two years in the Navy; Eric Olson, 30, who served in the Army; John Sheppard, 25-year-old former Army Air Forces flyer, and Herman Olin, 48, who has 19 years of experience as a steeplejack.

They are all stalwart ex G.I.'s who are not afraid of scaling and working on a chimney, flagpole or tower hundreds of feet up in the air, never on rainy days, but their pay goes on just the same. Their work is risky and dangerous.

O'Connor, tall, dark and a bridegroom of several months, has been steeplejacking for two years. Olson, tall, blonde, Swedish expert, is married and the father of three children. He has been scaling steeples for six years.

Shepherd, soft-spoken Virginian who is not married has been working two years, and Olin, the dean of the crew, has a German background.

The quartet of high-climbers are painting and finishing the cementing of the lonely, woodland surrounded sentinel on Buckingham mountain.

That the Buckingham mountain tower is duck-soup for them their record will indicate. In Cateret, N. J., they worked on a 400-foot smokestack which is the highest in the East.

In Arizona, they repaired a smokestack which is 515 feet tall. At Camp Upton, N. Y., they worked on a 300-foot tower which was built in connection with atom research being carried on in the Long Island spot.

One of the tallest chimney jobs towered 565 feet into the "wild blue yonder" on the borderline between the boundary of Maine and Canada.

This quartet of steeplejacks won't touch a bridge, not that the water below scares them, but it is a "lo-cal" (union) rule.

The New York firm has built at least two concrete smoke stacks in Russia, more than 300 feet tall, and has other steeplejacks tearing some down in Puerto Rico and Central America.

Since they can't be insured for more than $5,000, their wages range from $225 to $450 which is nice money anywhere.

AGED BURGLAR SAYS CRIME DOESN'T PAY

"Bob" Wooldridge, 94, of England, Quits Career of Crime

ONCE CAME TO U. S.

LONDON, Nov. 26 — (INS) — A saga of crime dating back from the Franco-Prussian war of 1870 ended with the retirement of Britain's oldest burglar, 94-year-old Bob Wooldridge.

With a staggering list of convictions and sentences totalling some 40 years, Bob reluctantly admitted crime does not pay.

Bob's nefarious career nearly ended before it really started. He went to America to make a fresh start and had a narrow escape from death during the 1906 San Francisco earthquake.

He returned to England — and a life of crime.

The last time he was caught Bob jumped nimbly into the dock at police court and pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted burglary.

Prosecutor Miles Archibald described Bob's attempt to break into a factory and added: "The astonishing thing is that he climbed a 6 ft. wall and jumped 14 ft. to the ground and was not hurt or distressed."

Court habitués gaped in awe as Bob's previous convictions were tolled monotonously by the clerk of the court.

When the Franco-Prussian war was raging in 1871, and the Germans were at the gates of Paris, Bob was busy letting himself quietly into someone else's house to do a little pillaging himself.

For that he got a whipping.

At 22, Bob landed in jail after an abortive attempt to remove property from a house in Leeds. There he met the notorious Charles Peace, double murder and expert burglar. "Give up crime, my boy," said Charles reprovingly. "It doesn't pay."

It was good advice at that but the young housebreaker in the next 72 years showed he had turned a deaf ear.

The clerk continued reading and sentences ranging from ten years to a few months descended on Bob's unbowed head.

The judge listened to them patiently. Then looking straight at the old man he said quietly:

"That's pretty formidable reading but something more astonishing is going to happen to you today. I'm going to let you go free. You have never been let off but this time you will be. Go home."

Prosecutor Archibald agreed with the judge but pointed out that unless a nominal sentence of one day or so was imposed Bob could bring an action for unlawful imprisonment because he had been remanded in custody.

The court was in an uproar when the judge replied: "We'll have to take that risk. He's going free."

Bob was visibly moved and said "that's the first time it's happened to me and from now on I'm going straight."

Recalling his career, the old burglar blamed the San Francisco earthquake as contributing to his downfall.

"I lost my wife and two children in the quake. I was working as a joiner ten miles from the city when it happened."

"My home just disappeared and my family was swallowed up."

"I came back to England and seemed unable to keep out of trouble."

"I've seen some sights, too, and been in some tough spots. But I'm proud to say I've never used violence. The trouble with the modern youngsters is that they get panicky and use the strong arm."

"They don't go in for burglary for fun. It's more serious with them."

"Of course in the old days I was helped by bad lighting. And there were no automobiles and police patrols. If we could run we had a chance."

"My biggest job was in Ireland, where I shared in a $10,000 robbery. I was 69 then."

The benign-looking old man spoke disparagingly of present-day prisons.

"Prisons today are like hotels compared with 50 years ago."

"I once spent months with a ball and chain round my feet. That was worse sometimes than solitary confinement."

"Once the chains got tangled up and they thought I was trying to escape. So for months afterward they gave me a tough time."

"But that's all past now. I'm going to take Charles Peace's advice. He was right about crime not paying."

Bob left court in company with a pal, 64-year-old Ernest Weston, who told the judge he would look after him.

"I'll spank him if he as much as brings home a rabbit," said Ernest.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PA. FARMERS

By Jack Ward

HARRISBURG, Nov. 26 — Ten thousand farm products exhibits, representing the cream of Pennsylvania's farm crops, are expected to be displayed at the 1949 annual state farm show at Harrisburg, January 10-14.

All exhibits, except certain classes of poultry, will be produced in Pennsylvania, according to the farm show commission.

Exhibits during the 1948 show totaled nearly 8,000.

Bumper crops from the 1948 growing season are expected to post the number of exhibits to the 1900 mark. Agriculture Secretary Iles Horst reports that many crops were of exceptional quality this year.

Corn, oats, barley, potato crops were above the 1937-46 average, he said. Corn and tobacco were among the largest ever produced in the state.

Competitive farm products, except live animals, will be displayed in the east and west lobbies of the new farm show building. These will include vegetables, milk, dressings, lamb and turkeys, honey, maple sugar and syrup, apples, tobacco, nuts, potatoes, corn, small grains and wool.

Perishable exhibits will be kept fresh by special water sprays and refrigeration equipment.

The farm show commission estimates the value of all exhibits to be displayed at between three and five million dollars.

Attendance at the 33rd annual show is expected to range between 450,000 and 550,000, dependant upon the weather. Visitors will attend from more than a score of states, Canada and several foreign nations, according to the commission, but the bulk of visitors will be from Pennsylvania's 67 counties.

Approximately 300 commercial exhibits will fill the 300,000 square feet of space provided for equipment and machinery displays in the main commercial exhibit hall. Nearly 150 commercial exhibitors were turned down for the 1949 show because of lack of space.

Pennsylvania's 1948-49 official laying contest may turn up a new record in egg production.

The state agriculture department reports that at the end of its first month, the new contest showed general improvement over the previous competition. With 1287 birds in 99 pens—same as last year—the number of eggs produced was 18,250, more than 1000 more than the output during the first month of the 1947-48 competition.

DONATE RADIOS

One portable and several other small radios were presented for use of patients at Naval Hospital, Philadelphia, by members of Patriotic Boosters of the 4th Ward, 2nd Precinct, on Friday. Mrs. Harry Hinman, Mrs. Robert Moss, Sr., and

Mrs. William Harding made the trip and presented the gifts which will remain at the hospital for use of patients. A tour of the hospital was arranged by Red Cross representatives, and the local trio had luncheon there. During World War II the local Boosters sent gift boxes to service-folk, and with balance in the treasury these radios were purchased. The gifts are in honor of all service personnel who served in both World Wars.

XMAS CLUB MEMBERS
RICHER BY $377,140*That Amount Paid to 3,539
Card Holders by Two Local Banks*CHECKS DATED MON.

Residents of this area, mostly Bristolians, are richer today by $377,140—the sum paid by the Christmas clubs operated by Bristol's two banking institutions.

Checks for the most part were received yesterday by those in this general area, the number of checks totalling 3,539.

The Christmas club of the Farmers National Bank increased by about $3,900 this year, the total being $216,625. Value of paid-up cards was as high as $500, and in some instances some individuals had more than one card. Checks were dated yesterday.

The Bristol Trust Company Christmas club paid out a total of $160,515, to 1536 members. With the exception of a few checks forwarded to California, most were residents of Bristol and vicinity. The total paid is approximately $5,000 less than that of last year's club. Highest amount to one individual was $1500.

Both banking institutions have already opened their 1949 clubs, with first payments due November 29th. Amounts paid weekly on each card ranged from a fraction of a dollar to $10.

RECIPESNEW WAYS WITH MEAT AND TOMATOES

Sometimes the flavor of one food is particularly good with that of another. For instance, the piquant flavor of tomatoes goes well with the satisfaction of meat. This combination is age-old but its goodness is proven by its popularity and by the fact that there are many new ways to combine the two flavors, points out Reba Staggs, home economist.

Swiss style steaks and pot-roasts are an example of one combination that has stood the test of time. In fact, all braised dishes cooked with tomato juice or tomato pulp have an especially good flavor. A new idea for many homemakers, in preparing meat dishes with tomato flavor is to use fresh tomatoes. The tomatoes cook down, releasing their juice and fresh flavor to the meat; and when the meat is done the cooking liquid is usually seasoned with salt and pepper and thickened for gravy. Broiled whole or half tomatoes or those baked in a hot oven are delicious as a meat accompaniment. An unusual touch is added by topping the tomato with an onion ring and brushing it with Worcestershire sauce.
